

Information regarding EP Bank AB's complaints procedure

EP Bank strives to develop new banking services and products. An important part of this development is the handling of eventual complaints and dissatisfactions regarding our services and products.

The easiest and fastest way to handle your complaint is to turn directly to the involved department within the bank.

The bank will usually need to investigate your case by looking through the materials in order to assess details and reasons of your dissatisfaction.

If you are dissatisfied with the response that you have received, you are always entitled to refer to the Complaint Manager of the bank directly in English who will investigate the matter again and will give you the final response. You can either send an email to:

klagomal@epbank.se

or send a letter by post to:

EP Bank Klagomalsansvarig

Box 7405

103 91 Stockholm

Sweden

Please explain the reason of your dissatisfaction and details regarding the previous investigation. Thereafter you will get the written confirmation that your complaint has been received and, if relevant, additional questions in order to make a proper investigation. Thereafter you will receive the final response in written form.

If you are a consumer, you can always contact the Swedish Consumers' Banking and Finance Bureau which provide consumers with independent information and advice. Please find the contact details below:
